Saturday 16 March

F2 Federal Conference Committee

Q1. Submitted by John Grout

Given the potential for an Autumn election to disrupt the Autumn Conference (for the 4th time in the last 5 years!), what plans do FCC have to minimise any disruption and ensure that something can still take place (e.g. purely online)? Given the high number of cancelled conferences over recent years, and the possibility of yet another cancellation in the autumn, on what grounds does FCC believe that any party member should arrange to attend any party conference ever again?

Q2. Submitted by Abrial Jerram

Do you plan to increase the diversity of conference venues beyond York, Brighton and Bournemouth in the long term?

Q3. Submitted by Abrial Jerram and John Grout

Did the possibility that this could be our last conference before the General Election have an impact on selection of motions for the agenda and if so, what was the impact? Given that this may well be the last Conference before the General Election, can FCC explain the decision not to have any GE- or manifesto-focused items on the main agenda?

Note: Both submitters of this composite question will be entitled to a supplementary question.

Q4. Submitted by Abrial Jerram

Please explain your selection of F23, Tackling the Funding Crisis in Local Government, given its lack of substance.

Saturday 16 March

F2

Q5. Submitted by Toby Keynes

For Autumn Conference 2023, a number of submitted questions were 'composited' together, supposedly to prevent duplication – but major concerns raised within some questions were removed entirely. Does FCC undertake not to use compositing to suppress awkward questions that members are entitled to raise?

Q6. Submitted by Michael Berwick-Gooding and Andrew Hudson

According to Standing Order 12.4 "After the Conference the Committee shall publish the answers to all questions submitted under Standing Orders 1.5 (d) and (e) which are in order, and to all supplementary questions asked". After last Autumn's Conference I emailed asking where this information would be published, but I didn't receive an answer. Please can you say where these have been published for the Federal Conferences last year and where they will be published for this Conference?

Note: Both submitters of this composite question will be entitled to a supplementary question.

Q7. Submitted by Dionne Daniel

The Questions input form says, at the final submission stage, "Recommended maximum 25 words" for Questions to Reports. You've already tried and failed to limit us to 30 seconds for follow-up questions. Are you trying to neuter this important way of holding committees to account at Conference?

Q8. Submitted by Joe Norris

What's been your committee's biggest mistake, and what did you learn from it?

Q9. Submitted by Alisdair McGregor

Why is the conference registration process still acting in a discriminatory fashion against people with long-term disabilities?

Saturday 16 March

F2

Q10. Submitted by James Bliss

At Bournemouth conference there was an issue of partisan leaflets on a major policy debate being handed out on chairs during a fringe event by a major party group. What steps are FCC taking to prevent this happening in future?

F3 Federal Policy Committee

Q1. Submitted by Em Dean

I welcome the efforts of the FPC to index our recent policy, however, some key policy is missing as it is much older, for example on Culture, Transport, and Equalities, which tend not to be updated as frequently. Could the FPC commit to going a bit further back in time on such issues, and add policy from prior years?

Q2. Submitted by Michael Berwick Gooding

Will FPC look into the tax expert Richard Murphy's Taxing Wealth Report, and into Margaret Hodge's claim made on 25th November 2023 in the House of Commons that there are 100 tax reliefs which could raise £195 billion if scrapped, with a view to the party adopting some of them?

F16 Emergency motions

The following two motions have been selected for debate; there will therefore not be an emergency motions ballot.

F16A Navalny

11 members

Mover: Christine Jardine MP.

Summation: David Chalmers.

- 1 Conference notes that:
 - 2 I. Alexei Navalny, the leader of democratic opposition to Vladimir
3 Putin in Russia, was killed on 16 February 2024.
 - 4 II. Navalny's widow, Yulia Navalnaya, has said that Navalny was 5 'tortured, starved, cut off and killed by Putin'.
 - 6 III. Navalny had been serving a sentence at an Arctic penal colony,
7 after being arrested upon his return to Russia in January 2021,
8 having previously spent months recovering in Germany following
9 a Novichok assassination attempt.
 - 10 IV. Other democratic activists imprisoned in Russia include Vladimir
11 Kara-Murza, British-Russian dual national and member of our 12 sister party Yabloko; there is now a real risk that he is also killed.
- 13 Conference believes that:
 - 14 A. Navalny's tragic death, at the hands of Putin, cannot and will not 15 stifle the democratic ideals that he fought for.
 - 16 B. Navalny cast a light on the corruption of Putin and his cronies.
 - 17 C. Following Navalny's death, the UK Government did sanction some 18 individuals operating the Arctic penal colony, but they have failed
19 to sanction the entirety of the 'Navalny List'.
 - 20 D. Navalny's opposition to Putin is embodied in the brave resistance
21 of the Ukrainians.
 - 22 E. We must be emboldened to stand with Ukraine, even as US
23 support wavers, and help them resist Vladimir Putin's forces and 24 liberate their territory.
 - 25 F. The UK must do all it can to secure the release of Vladimir Kara-
26 Murza.

Sunday 17 March

F16

- 27 Conference accordingly calls on the UK Government to:
- 28 1. Sanction the rest of the Navalny List.
- 29 2. Make it a diplomatic priority to secure the release of Vladimir
30 Kara-Murza.
- 31 3. Support Vladimir Kara-Murza and all other British dual nationals
32 in similar situations by enshrining in law a right for British
33 dual nationals who have been politically detained to access UK
34 consular services.
- 35 4. Stand with Ukraine as the country resists Putin's invasion, by:
- 36 a) Beginning the seizure of frozen Russian assets in the UK, with 37 proceeds repurposed to finance support for Ukraine.
- 38 b) Immediately repurposing the interest accrued on frozen
39 Russian assets for the good of Ukraine, following the plan set
40 out by Belgium.
- 41 5. Take steps to tackle economic crime, including flows of money
42 from Putin's cronies, by:
- 43 a) Publishing the long overdue review of 'golden visas', the Tier
44 1 (Investor) visa scheme.
- 45 b) Close loopholes in economic crime legislation.
- 46 c) Properly fund the National Crime Agency, so that they can 47 pursue Russian economic crime in this country.

Applicability: Federal.

F16B Beyond Rwanda: A Fairer Way Forward on Asylum

11 members

Mover: Max Wilkinson.

Summation: Danny Chambers.

- 1 Conference notes with grave concern the Conservative Government's 2 latest efforts to push through their failing Rwanda scheme amid
3 general chaos in the Home Office – including their controversial

Sunday 17 March

F16

4 Safety of Rwanda (Asylum and Immigration) Bill which has passed
5 through the House of Commons in January and February and is now
6 in the House of Lords, the sacking of David Neal as Independent Chief
7 Inspector of Borders and Immigration in February, and near-constant
8 political infighting.

9 Conference further notes that:

- 10 I. Under this policy, refugees removed to Rwanda will not be 11 eligible to return to the UK, even if their asylum claims are 12 successful.
- 13 II. The Supreme Court has already ruled that the scheme is illegal 14 due to serious deficiencies in the Rwandan asylum system.
- 15 III. More than £241 million has already been spent on the scheme, 16 despite no flights taking off – equivalent to the cost of delivering 17 more than 5.7 million GP appointments.
- 18 IV. The Home Office's own figures show that it will cost £69,000
19 more to send each asylum seeker to Rwanda, compared to if they 20 remained in the UK.
- 21 V. The Safety of Rwanda (Asylum and Immigration) Bill has been 22 described by some lawyers as "legislating for a lie", declaring
23 Rwanda as a safe third country – despite the Supreme Court
24 upholding that it is not and Conservative ministers own
25 admissions it currently is not.
- 26 VI. A similar Israeli program of sending asylum seekers to Rwanda
27 resulted in most of them being smuggled out of Rwanda in the 28 hands of criminal gangs.

29 Conference believes that the Government's Rwanda policy:

- 30 a) Has been an extraordinary waste of time and money.
- 31 b) Is immoral, ineffective and incredibly expensive for the taxpayer.
- 32 c) Will do nothing to stop dangerous Channel crossings or combat 33 people smuggling and human trafficking.
- 34 d) Fails to address the backlog of asylum applications that has 35 ballooned under this Conservative Government.
- 36 e) Betrays the UK's proud tradition of providing sanctuary to 37 refugees fleeing war and persecution, and breaches our 38 international law commitments.

Sunday 17 March

F16

39 Conference further believes that the best way to stop these dangerous 40 crossings and tackle people smuggling is to provide safe and legal 41 routes to sanctuary for refugees.

42 Conference therefore calls on the UK Government to:

- 43 1. Abandon the Rwanda scheme and related legislation with 44 immediate effect.
- 45 2. Reaffirm its commitment to upholding important human rights
46 legislation, including the European Convention on Human Rights,
47 the UN Refugee Convention and the Human Rights Act.
- 48 3. Fix the broken asylum system by establishing a new, dedicated 49 unit to make decisions quickly and fairly.
- 50 4. Provide safe and legal routes to sanctuary for refugees from all 51 countries, as outlined in policy motion Safe and Legal Routes to 52 Save Lives.
- 53 5. Manage the costs of the asylum system by giving asylum seekers
54 the right to work and introducing a service standard of three 55 months for all but the most complex claims to be processed.

Applicability: Federal.

F17 Federal Board

Q1. Submitted by John Grout

Since 01/01/2020, how many in-person Conferences have been cancelled to date, and what is the total aggregate financial cost to the Party of those cancellations? Given the number of conference cancellations in recent years, and the possibility of yet another in the autumn, on what grounds does the Federal Board believe that any party member should arrange to attend any party conference ever again?

Q2. Submitted by Abrial Jerram, Michael Berwick-Gooding, and Adam Roberston

How successful have you been in achieving the objective of “developing a compelling and distinctive narrative” and how important is it compared to the other organisational priorities listed in the report? The slogan ‘For a Fair Deal’ could be open up to interpretation, and therefore could mean something different to each individual. When we are talking about 'Fairness' is it the overarching theme of equality of opportunity or economic equality?

Sunday 17 March

Note: All three submitters of this composite question will be entitled to a supplementary question.

Q3. Submitted by Daniel Jones

Given the advice to all members regarding antisemitism and the risks of being drawn into conspiracist thinking online (especially on social media), what is the board doing to support members (especially those involved in vetting council candidates) in spotting and being aware of such arguments?

Q4. Submitted by John Grout

How can we give LGBT+ candidates confidence and support given the culture wars the opponents of the Lib Dems are likely to be fighting on at the General Election?

Q5. Submitted by Mark Johnston

In cases that were already several years old, why did it take six months for the dismissal of eight so-called 'transphobia' complaints to be communicated to the members concerned? In the Board's view, do these unjustified delays and associated uncertainties caused by the party constitute victimisation within the meaning of Section 27 of the Equality Act?

Q6. Submitted by Zoe Hollowood

Has the Federal Board been given direct access to, and discussed, the legal advice commissioned by the party after the adoption of the Revised Definition of Transphobia? If not, why not?

Q7. Submitted by Zoe Hollowood

Has all the expert legal advice commissioned by the party into the Definition of Transphobia consistently confirmed that the holding and expressing of gender critical beliefs by members is protected by law under the Equality Act and the European Convention on Human Rights (Arts 9 & 10), and that members must be allowed to express those beliefs freely, as long as they do not harass or discriminate against trans people or create an environment that is hostile or discriminatory to trans people?

Sunday 17 March

Q8. Submitted by Alisdair McGregor

In the wake of the case of Ali vs Green Party, is the Federal Board confident that our disciplinary procedures are robust and fit for purpose in removing transphobes and others who are not aligned with the values of the party?

Q9. Submitted by Toby Keynes

Will the Federal Board take steps to disassociate the Party from the incendiary and grossly offensive assertion, in a motion adopted by English Council Executive in November 2022, that allowing party members to hold and express gender critical beliefs is "equivalent to allowing the holding and expressing of white supremacist or anti-Semitic views"?

Q10. Submitted by Juliet Line

In 2022 the ex-Chair of FPDC commented that it was working on a whistleblowing policy for volunteers. When can members expect its completion, who has been consulted and how will it be communicated?

Q11. Submitted by Toby Keynes

On 19/11/2022, I volunteered to train as an e-ballot administrator. The first initial training session offered was in December 2023. It is now 15 ½ months since I first applied, and I am still waiting to be offered the final-stage training programme. Is there a shortage of trained e-ballot administrators, and how long is the average wait time from volunteering to completing training?

Q12. Submitted by Wendy Horton and Dionne Daniel

Could Federal Board put the 2022 presidential hustings videos online and link them to the 2022 President election results page as they seem to have been taken down after briefly being available on you tube?

Note: Both submitters of this composite question will be entitled to a supplementary question.

Sunday 17 March

F18

F18 Campaign for Gender Balance

Q1. Submitted by Alison Jenner

Numerous councillors and local party executives have told me their experiences of sex discrimination within the party, from being advised not to stand due to having young children, to refusal to make accommodations regarding meeting times. What is the Party doing to support women in this position, educate other councillors and exec members and help stop this happening?

F19 Federal Campaigns and Elections Committee

Q1. Submitted by John Grout and Adam Roberston

What more support can be given to T2/Moving Forward seats to help as many as possible become the target seats of the future? How are the Federal Communications and Elections Committee ensuring that Development and Start-Up seats are being supported for the General Election, with the County Council Elections being the main priority and the potential for many Liberal Democrats being elected to County Councils in 2025 and being in power?

Note: Both submitters of this composite question will be entitled to a supplementary question.

Q2. Submitted by Abrial Jerram

What is the process for a constituency that does not hit targets and does this process differ between held seats and non-held seats?

Q3. Submitted by Chris Butler

Why has the committee not disseminated the findings of the Campaigns Innovation Fund that it commissioned on the effectiveness of digital and non-digital campaigning?

Q4. Submitted by Abrial Jerram

How many seats are in each tier and do you expect these numbers to change between now and the election?
