Speaking and Voting at Conference

Applying to speak

To make a speech in a debate you must:

- complete a speaker's card, collected from and returned to the Speakers' Table at the front of the auditorium, an auditorium steward or the Information Desk; or
- submit an electronic speaker's card up to one hour before the start of the debate, online at:

www.libdems.org.uk/speakers-card

Completing a speaker's card

When completing a speaker's card, remember:

1 Submit your card well in advance.

The chair and aide team for the debate will meet well in advance to plan the debate – sometimes the previous day.

2 Fill in your card completely.

Complete the back of the card as well as the front. These sections are needed for the chair and aide to balance the debate, so they can call people with relevant experience and avoid a string of people making the same point.

3 Make sure it's readable!

Don't fill every square centimetre of the card, and write legibly – the easier you make it for the chair and aide to read the card the more likely you will be called.

Live Stream

The conference will be streamed live. In case you miss any sessions or want to watch again, go to www.LibDems.org.uk/conference-live

2 g) Evidence indicates that ethnic minority groups are underrepresented

Background briefing

This motion and the accompanying policy paper develop new policies on the foreign interference, undue influence, ethical standards, and democratic participation. It builds on existing policy as set out in the 2024 General Election Manifesto, For a Fair Deal, policy paper 145, Democracy and Public Debate, and policy motions Fair Votes Now (2024), and Restore Standards in Public Life (2023).

F20 Federal Board Report: questions and accountability

Q1. Artie Khovanov

What concrete steps will we be taking to better reach urban voters in future election campaigns?

Q2. John Grout

We had another success in the 2026 local elections, but there are too many areas where we are stuck or not on the map, such as Glasgow, Nottingham, and Carmarthenshire. How will our new strategy address these Lib Dem deserts?

Sunday 20 September cont

Q3. Alisdair Calder McGregor

The Federal Board report claims that Spring Conference incurs losses; How is this affected by the breakdown of Conference Office resource allocations?

Q4. Rebecca Jones

What steps they are taking to support a) target and b) non-target seats who are struggling with low amounts of volunteer activists.

Q5. Katherine Howells

The Complaints Process report submitted to conference states (at page 55 of the reports document) that 5 party members have received 'training' as a sanction resulting from a complaint. Can the Federal Board confirm i) the process by which such training is arranged, including how the training provider is selected, ii) how many of the 5 members referred for training have received the training to date and iii) the wait times for each member from the complaints outcome to the training being delivered.

Q6. Tony Vickers

Having lacked IT support for AOs since rule changes in 2021, will there be an extended 'grace period' for those needing it for full compliance?

Q7. Simon Hughes

What are our targets for total party a) members, b) supporters and c) Young Liberals by September 2027, and the most effective ways to achieve this?

Q8. John Grout

Do you agree that all meaningful decision-making power in the Liberal Democrats should be concentrated in 66 Buckingham Gate, and if not, what steps is the Board/President taking to ensure that efforts to do so will fail?

Q9. John Grout

Do you feel there is a gap in the party's disciplinary processes when it comes to groups of members that are not incorporated as AOs? How can the process be improved to ensure that such groups, or their leaders where they are members, can be held accountable by the party for their actions?

Q10. Alisdair Calder McGregor

What items are you including as 'Conference Expenditures' for each Conference which a reasonable person may question if they are truly so?

Q11. Alisdair Calder McGregor

What price does the Federal Board place on our Party Democracy?

Q12. Mark Johnston

Further to his response given at York, will the President say when the new Federal Party Whistle-blower Scheme will be (i) posted on the party website, and (ii) communicated to party members?

Q13. John Grout

Given a slew of high-profile out-of-court settlements and capitulations, is the CEO's strategy of not contesting court claims by those hostile to our party's aims and objectives being judged a success, and if so, by what metric?

Q14. Zoe Hollowood

On the Lib Dem website it states that the Campaign for Gender Balance (CGB) exists to develop and support women interested in standing for public office within the Liberal Democrats (e.g. through the use of specific training programmes). Does the Board recognise that in doing this the Campaign for Gender Balance is providing positive action measures as per the Equality Act 2010 section 158?

Sunday 20 September cont

F21 Federal International Relations Committee Report: questions and accountability

Q1. John Grout

What do you think is the Liberal Democrats' biggest reputational risk amongst our international sister parties, and how can we address that?

F22 Federal Council Report: questions and accountability

Q1. John Grout

In your view, what are the greatest challenges to the effectiveness of the Federal Council, and how can these be overcome?

Q2. Alisdair Calder McGregor

Does the Federal Council think that the requirements for the Federal Council to actually do anything are too high to be practical?

F23 Vice President's Report: questions and accountability

Q1. Artie Khovanov

Might we need to deprioritise candidates' localist credentials when making selections, in order to improve diversity, particularly in ethnicity and class?

F23A Federal Appeal Panel Report

Mover: Harry Samuels

Please note this item was inadvertently omitted from the Agenda, but the report of the Appeals Panel is included in the Reports document. The Federal Appeals Panel Report is not subject to a vote.

Q1. Zoe Hollowood

In your report you cite case 74 on quota 2.5 was not allowed to proceed as it was then considered 'premature and potentially academic.' This case was brought after the former Federal Board decided initially not to act on concerns raised about the lawfulness of quota 2.5 and Federal Conference voted to 'move to next business' rather than amend the quota. The report on case 76 then highlighted further issues as the Returning Officer tried to change quota 2.5 to ensure compliance with the Equality Act and this was ruled out with their powers. On reflection is the Party missing a mechanism to handle such issues in the future to ensure we do not have a repeat of the delays in the Federal elections? Does the FAP need amended powers or does the onus lie elsewhere?
